Once-upon-a time there was a girl named Lily. She was walking to school. She heard the crunch of the leaves under her feet.

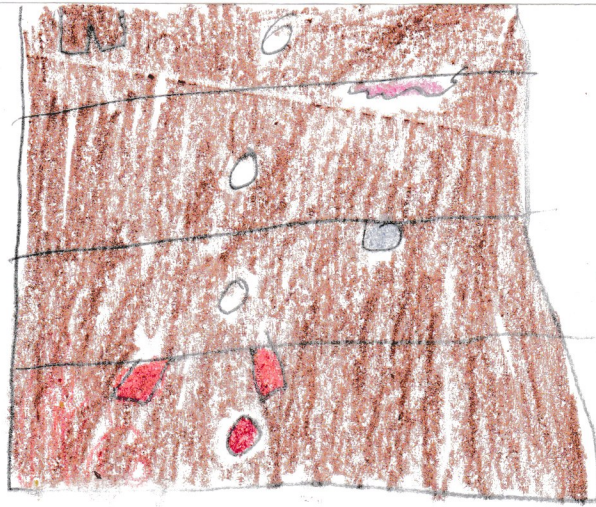

She got to school and had to go to science class. There was boy in there she DIDN'T LIKE AT ALL!! Do you know why? He joked about her all the stinken time. She hated him like he was a disgusting hairy spider. Ring ring ring!!!! The bell rang for school and she figured out the bully lived on the same street as her!!!

She got home and asked her mom if she can make cookies for the bully. Her mom said "yes you can but why are you doing this when he bullies you all the time." Lily said "I want to show him that I am brave since he thinks I am not." Ring ring ring ring!!! The cookies were done and Lily went over next door. His mom opened the door. I said "I made some cookies for your son." She said "he is in his room playing a video game you can go in his room." "Ok," I said. I went up to his room I gave him the cookies. He said "what are you doing here?"

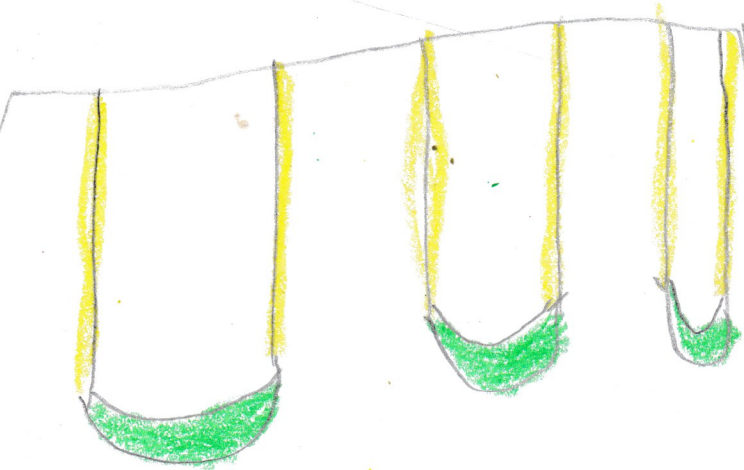

Lily said, "I wanted to show you how I'm not scared of you when you bully me and why are you always mean to everybody, even me". The bully started to cry. "I have no friends." he said "I thought if I acted strong people would become friends with me." the bully said. I said, "Well you see how that isn't working?" "Yeah," he said. "Then why don't you just stop?" Lily said in her nicest voice. "Yeah I guess I should." Said the bully. The next day they went outside and played tag together. (Happily)
